

Contents

1	Setting the Scene for a New Era of Focus Group Research	1
	Rosaline S. Barbour
 Section I Using Focus Groups in New Settings
2	Outsiders on the Inside: Focus Group Research with Elite Youth Footballers	17
	Chris Platts and Andy Smith
3	Reflections on Outsourcing and Applying for Funding	35
	Laurence Kohn and Wendy Christiaens
4	Cross-Cultural Focus Group Discussions	59
	Monique M. Hennink
5	Exploring Sex, HIV and 'Sensitive' Space(s) Among Sexual and Gender Minority Young Adults in Thailand	83
	Peter A. Newman, Suchon Tepjan and Clara Rubincam

Section II Capitalizing on Focus Groups in Mixed Methods Contexts

- 6 Use of Focus Groups in Developing Behavioural mHealth Interventions: A Critical Review 109
Helen Eborall and Katie Morton
- 7 The Use of Focus Groups in Programme Evaluation: Experience Based on the Project P.A.T.H.S. in a Chinese Context 129
Daniel T. L. Shek
- 8 Focus Groups in Triangulation Contexts 155
Sabine Caillaud and Uwe Flick
- 9 Hybrid Focus Groups as a Means to Investigate Practical Reasoning, Learning Processes and Indigenous Activities 179
Ana Prades, Josep Espluga and Tom Horlick-Jones

Section III Innovations in Focus Group Facilitation

- 10 The Use of Video Recording in Longitudinal Focus Group Research 207
Claire Thompson, Daniel J Lewis and Stephanie J C Taylor
- 11 Best Practices for Synchronous Online Focus Groups 227
Bojana Lobe
- 12 Performance-Based Focus Groups 251
Jennifer Wooten
- 13 Collective Production of Discourse: An Approach Based on the Qualitative School of Madrid 277
Jorge Ruiz Ruiz

Section IV Theoretical Developments

- |              |   |     |
|--------------|---|-----|
| 14           | A Kaleidoscope of Voices: Using Focus Groupsin a Study of Rural Adolescent GirlsErin E. Seaton   | 303 |
| 15           | Bringing Socio-Narratology and Visual Methodsto Focus Group ResearchCassandra Phoenix, Noreen Orr and Meridith Griffin                               | 325 |
| 16           | Focus Groups as Anticipatory Methodology:A Contribution from Science and TechnologyStudies Towards Socially Resilient GovernancePhil Macnaghten | 343 |
| 17           | Using Focus Groups to Study the Process of (de)PoliticizationSophie Duchesne   | 365 |
| 18           | Practice Theoretically Inspired Focus Groups:Socially Recognizable Performativity?Bente Halkier  | 389 |
| 19           | Conclusions: A Call for Further Innovationsin Focus GroupsDavid L. Morgan  | 411 |
| Index |   | 421 |